MAPPING THE FUTURE | COLUMN IN INQUIRER "Personal governance and Dream Philippines 2046"

by Mr. REX C. DRILON II Governor-in-Charge of the MAP ESG and Shared Prosperity Committee Vice Chair of the Center for Excellence in Governance (CEG)

In January 2022, former Finance Secretary Jesus Estanislao, together with a few colleagues, convened a group of almost 100 volunteers to share the idea of Dream Philippines. These included friends, colleagues, associates, senior citizens, retired senior government officials, young students and young professionals from different sectors of society. The convocation and subsequent working sessions were organized and led by the Center for Excellence in Governance (CEG) in cooperation with the Institute for Solidarity in Asia (ISA), which focuses on public governance advocacy, and the Institute of Corporate Directors (ICD), which focuses on corporate governance advocacy. They met at least once a month for five months. Continue reading

AWEN Chair from 2016-2018 PHILWEN Trustee and member of AWEN's Advisory Council 1st Vice President of the ASEAN Coffee Federation Looking for an alternative career? Eager to approach retirement? One usually asks people have asked me: What do I do when I reach retirement age? My reply: You have to keep yourself busy. One of the ways to be busy but not doing the usual 9-to-5 grind is to be a board director. The next question is: But I have no idea about finance or risk management. Well, being a director does not mean you have to be a finance whiz or an audit expert. Directors have to be from varied backgrounds and preferably have had experience in a field which the rest of the Board may not have. Continue reading
